2020-2021 IMPACT REPORT

JOURNEY TO POSITIVE CHANGE

We took a fast elevator ride down during this pandemic. Now, although it is a bumpy escalator ride back up, we are on a return to more freedoms and safety. The journey through COVID-19 forced us to step decisively but carefully to maintain our footing. Progress never seems to be fast enough – never more than trying to recover from COVID-19 – but often more haste results in less speed.

Our pandemic coping strategies were built on patience and persistence. Those qualities serve us well in supporting young people and creating new opportunities for them to experience success. There are no shortcuts in building relationships or in creating more effective behaviours. For our youth to reach success we must support them for the duration of their journey to positive change in behaviour and attitudes.

We use directional planning and goal setting as maps to chart the course forward. We keep on course through check ins and course corrections to adjust to changing circumstances. Youth in our care are often victims of abuse, neglect, and trauma, and their coping mechanisms are sometimes compromised. But youth also have a determination that makes them unstoppable.

The importance of young people and their inherent potential makes Youth Care Workers both strategic and invaluable. Youth Care Workers are that insistent voice in the lives of our youth that helps them recognize that failure and setbacks are nothing more than growth in disguise. Critics are easy to find, but it takes guts to be an encourager. However hard and winding the road, youth care work transforms lives as it equips children and youth who are stumbling on a narrow path to race on a superhighway. Daily, I remind our staff to recognize that as they build the capacity of our youth for their futures, the social footprint staff are leaving is significant.

A career in Youth Care counts: that is a core conviction of Youth Impact Jeunesse. I believe that when we bring out the best in others, we consequently bring out the best in ourselves. I cannot emphasize enough the importance of this work and how it benefits the community and the youth we serve. Just as important, it also provides the context for a gratifying and glorious career. One of the clearest signposts of a wonderfully crafted life is contribution. The same is true for organizations. That's why I am proud to be associated with our staff. Thank you to our Board of Directors, Management Team, Youth Care Staff, and Administrative Support Staff for helping our young people navigate their journey forward.

PARENT

Cumberland Road Residential Program

"To say that my husband and myself struggled with our daughter going to a Group Home would be an understatement.

I am here to say that since October, this has been our family's fate. My daughter has been suffering from mental health issues that we could not safely manage as two people in our home. Kate Bradshaw and her team at Cumberland Residential Program have made this a decision I now know was the best for the needs and safety of our adopted daughter. The team at Cumberland works tirelessly each day to provide the youth in their care with a safe, caring, and structured environment with the tools they have each day, no matter the challenge that day presents.

Thank you to each one of you at Cumberland for the care and compassion you have shown our family."

AT-RISK DEFINED

Simply put, it means “at-risk” of not becoming a healthy and productive adult. An at-risk youth is threatened by various factors that inhibit learning, impede adjustment, and impair judgment, making it more likely that he or she will make choices that result in further marginalization, often with dire short and long-term consequences.

HONORABLE DOROTHY SHEPHARD

(excerpt taken from AGM 2020 speech)

“Youth Impact Jeunesse continues to be a leader and innovator in supporting youth in our province, the leaders of tomorrow. You all play a huge part in strengthening the support provided to youth and shaping the future vision of the child welfare continuum. Your government is so proud of the work you do. We are grateful, and we do not take you for granted.”

PAUL TONER

Associate Director/Director of Community Development
United Way Greater Moncton and Southeastern New Brunswick

“Youth Impact is one of our partners in the community that was quick to respond to the challenges of the pandemic so they could continue to serve some of our young people in the most vulnerable of circumstances. United Way was pleased to invest funds through the Emergency Community Support Fund through the support of the Government of Canada to purchase appliances and supplies that have allowed the most basic of needs of young people to be met: a hot meal, a shower, a place to do laundry, clothes, and most especially, a friendly ear. When other services were shutting down, at Youth Impact the care continued. Thank you for your commitment and profound impact!”

JESSICA RICHARD

Community Program Officer, Codiac Regional RCMP

“Codiac Community Policing Unit’s Community Program Officer (CPO) is identified as the RCMP liaison between Youth Impact Jeunesse Inc. and the Codiac Regional RCMP. The CPO works in partnership with Youth Impact’s Residential Program Managers/Staff to assist with the creation of Police Action Plans, wraparound meetings for youth at risk and quarterly meetings with Youth Impact management team with the goal being to ensure the safety of the youth. This partnership enhances communication between organizations and informs mutual strategies as to best support youth who are struggling to make their way forward.”

BOB SAVOIE

Partner, Enterprise, KPMG LLP

“As I contemplate my retirement from public accounting I reflect upon my clients and in particular Youth Impact who I have served as auditor since its inception. Youth Impact has always maintained strong fiscal management and integrity while maintaining the highest quality of service to youth in need providing them with hope and the tools required to succeed in life. PRESIDENT'S REPORT

DECISIVE STEPS

The Board of Directors, along with the Management Team and all staff members, are committed to excellence in service to the young people of this province. I would like to highlight several activities this past year that illustrate this declaration.

This has been a year full of pandemic-based challenges with changing information, a rollercoaster of risk factors, elevated levels of stress and anxiety, and a time when care givers were pushed to be their absolute best in the service of our young people. An Operational Plan was developed by senior management and was carried out by Program Managers, front-line and head office staff members. The three sections reflected the environments of the organization: Administration, Youth QUEST Central, and Residential Services. The management and ongoing execution of this evolving plan was a mammoth undertaking. Congratulations to our staff members for keeping everyone safe and for staying fully engaged in exceptionally challenging circumstances.

The organization officially completed its most recent three-year strategic plan with summary reports on results completed. Thank you to the many contributors to the accomplishment of these strategic goals. I want to highlight the achievement of the Best Practices Committee that developed a comprehensive training package for Trauma Informed Care. This training is being rolled out to our staff teams throughout 2021.

In January, the agency began preparation for its four-year review with the Canadian Centre for Accreditation. This accreditation designation is a testament to the organization's dedication to accountability, transparency, best practices, and ongoing improvement. The full review will be completed in the fall of 2021.

The Board of Directors completed a self-evaluation exercise in December through a comprehensive survey that provided some helpful feedback. It also conducted a four-year review of the agency's By-laws with revisions ratified in December. Strategic Planning, the Pandemic Operational Plan, Self-Evaluation Practices, and an Accreditation Designation are all pathways in the organization's journey to creating the best version of itself. Excellence is not an event but a process, and I thank my fellow Board members and all the agency's staff members who have helped to move Youth Impact forward.
